The contract resulting from this selection tender should start in November, with an expected duration of 10 months (duration of the activities) which will never, under any circumstances, exceed the duration of the project.

This project aims at addressing the following five related policy questions:

- In a world with increasing inequality, should capital income be taxed in order to distribute to labor?
- In a world where labor is threatened by automation, how should machines be treated in fiscal terms? In a world in which globalization also appears to be a threat to labor, should trade be taxed away?
- In a world with increasing uncertainty, how does uncertainty affect the optimal taxation of capital and labor?
- A good part of the wealth of households is in residential property. Should housing be treated for fiscal purposes just like capital or should housing services be taxed, just like any other consumption good?
